COUNSELING DEPARTMENT

Dear Parents of Seniors: February 12, 2016

With the first semester now completed and graduation fast approaching, we hope your son's or daughter's college decision is getting closer to being made. Your files must be overflowing by now! Receipts, records, tax forms and all kinds of bits and pieces of paper are piling up everywhere. College newsletters and other assorted college information complicate the mess. Sorting it all out can be quite a chore. Hopefully by now you are completing the application process to schools and arranging visits to campuses so a final decision can be made. We hope the following information will be both useful and helpful.

WHAT SHOULD SENIORS BE DOING IN FEBRUARY?

1. Students should make a college visit to make sure the college is the right one for them academically and socially. We recommend visiting on a Thursday or Friday and staying overnight to get a feel for the social and academic environment. Can't find the time to visit that college campus you always wanted to get to? Websites such as www.campustours.com, www.ecampustours.com or www.youvisit.com allow for virtual guided walking tours of college campuses around the country.
2. Students planning on living on campus should be taking care of housing (getting their housing contracts mailed and sending deposits).
3. Students should be filling out the FAFSA and perhaps the CSS Profile if required.
4. Apply for scholarship opportunities. A list of current scholarships is available on Naviance Family Connection by going to "Scholarship List" under the "Colleges" tab.
5. Update your college admissions decisions on Naviance Family Connection.

COLLEGE DAYS

Seniors planning on taking a college day to visit a college or university of their choice must do so before May 1. A note from a parent must be given to Mr. Murphy or Mr. Palmasani one week prior to the planned visit for approval.

FINANCIAL AID SEARCH THROUGH THE WEB

The Internet's largest free scholarship search can be accessed by either typing in www.fastweb.com or www.scholarships.com. Here you can set up a personalized profile that will match your student's specific skills, abilities and interests to a database of college scholarships and grants worth over $3.4 billion. Just a few simple steps need to be completed to get immediate results online.

Through these sites you can access some of the best collections of free student financial aid information on the internet. Students are connected with tools to aid in researching and finding financial aid for college. Information can be found here about education tax benefits, grants and loans as well as financial aid tips from experts. Also found here is a constantly expanding library of resources to cover all aspects of college life.

You can find links to all of the financial aid information on our Guidance (Counseling) web page at www.providencecatholic.org. First click on "Academics" on the top of the Providence home page, scroll down to Guidance (Counseling) Department, and then select "College Financial Aid" in the left column.

FINANCIAL AID FORM: THE FAFSA

The first day to file the FAFSA was January 1, 2016. Early submission maximizes your chances of receiving aid. This form should be completed online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. If your family will be applying for any kind of college financial aid, this form needs to be completed.

The PDF version of the 2016-2017 FAFSA is available for download on various Federal Student Aid Web sites, such as www.fafsa.ed.gov and www.studentaid.gov/resources in January.

The FSA ID – the username and password a student needs for signing the FAFSA and for various other uses on Federal Student Aid websites – replaced the Federal Student Aid PIN in May 2015. Visit www.studentsid.gov.fsaid to learn about and create a FSA ID.

FAFSA on the Web at www.fafsa.ed.gov allows applicants the ability to access their IRS tax information and have it automatically inserted into the FAFSA. The 2016-2017 FAFSA will include a brief series of questions to determine whether an individual is eligible for the IRS Data Retrieval Tool (IRS DRT.) (Examples of those ineligible would include someone who amended his/her tax return or filed separately from his/her spouse.) Only eligible applicants will be able to retrieve IRS data, saving time and confusion.

Currently in addition to federal student aid, you may also be eligible for a tax credit which you claim when you file your taxes. For more information on these tax credits and the U.S. Department of Education's student aid programs, go to www.studentaid.ed.gov or call the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4FED-AID (1-800-433-3243) Monday through Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 12:00 midnight EST or on Saturday between 9:00 am and 6:00 pm EST.

The Department of Education will stop giving colleges information from the federal form about students' college preferences, which critics said disadvantaged some students during the admissions and financial aid process. The department plans to stop sharing the "FAFSA position" information with colleges starting with the forms that are processed this coming January for aid that will be awarded during the 2016-17 school year.

Other points for future use:

- When you file for financial aid for the academic year 2017-18, you will be able to file after October 1, 2016. This would be for your student's second year of college. You will be able to use the official tax results from the 2015 tax return.
- Beginning in 2017, the tax return system will move from prior year income to what they are calling "prior, prior."

College Awareness and Preparation (CAP), sponsored by the Illinois Student Assistance Commission (ISAC), offers a variety of seminars, workshops and support regarding the FAFSA. They host dozens of FAFSA Completion Workshops located throughout the state to assist families in completing their 2016-2017 FAFSA. The locations can be found on the Outreach Activities Calendar on the ISAC website at http://www.isac.org/students/before-college/outreach-activitiesevent-calendar/. Financial aid professionals will be on hand at these workshops to assist families with the application, the process, and answer any questions. You may also visit the ISAC website for a wealth of information on many other topics concerning the college process. Additionally, Joliet Junior College will be hosting FAFSA workshops in February and March. Please see the attached flyer for dates and times.

Please feel free to contact Mr. Murphy or Mr. Palmasani if you have any questions about the financial aid or scholarship process.

The FAFSA may not be the only application or form needed to receive a loan or grant although it must first be completed to determine any financial eligibility. Financial Aid offices at individual colleges and universities may require additional forms.

Don't forget to keep a copy of your completed FAFSA for your records.

CSS/FINANCIAL AID PROFILE SERVICE

A service of the College Scholarship Service is the CSS/FINANCIAL AID PROFILE SERVICE. The PROFILE, separate and distinct from the federal system, was developed to address the needs of colleges, universities and scholarship programs that award their own non-federal student aid funds. Although this form will not be used by all schools, there will be some schools requiring it (i.e. Northwestern, Notre Dame). The school your student has applied to will notify you if it is required. PROFILE applications may also be completed online at www.collegeboard.com.

It is very important for colleges and programs that do use the PROFILE for the College Scholarship Service to successfully merge data from the FAFSA and the PROFILE. Be sure the PROFILE is required by the college your son or daughter wants to attend before completing it.

HINTS ON APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

YOU SHOULD:

- Check with each college to find out what financial aid forms are required and their deadlines.
- Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon as possible after January 1, 2016. NOTE: You may file this form using estimated income information from 2015.

After you file the FAFSA, you may want to develop an appeal strategy. There are a number of variables worthy of an appeal, but here is a common example. If you are currently paying tuition to a grade school or high school for other children in your family, you may want to send a letter to the financial aid offices to each of the colleges explaining this additional expense that the FAFSA did not take into account.

FEDERAL STUDENT AID INFORMATION CENTER

The Federal Student Aid Information Center offers assistance in completing the federal student financial aid application, information about whether a school participates in federal student aid programs and the school's default rate, federal student aid eligibility requirements, and federal student aid publications. The phone number is 1-800-4-FEDAID (1-800-433-3243).

SELECTIVE SERVICE AND FINANCIAL AID

For many years now, there has been a requirement in the State of Illinois that young men are to be registered with Selective Service to be eligible to receive state student financial aid or to seek employment in Illinois. These laws are similar to federal legislation which links registration to federal student aid and federal employment. Young men must register at the post office within 30 days of turning 18 by filling out a simple card. They can also sign up by answering #22 on the FAFSA form or by going to www.sss.gov. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000 and/or up to five years in prison.
