School and Community

Providence Catholic High School is a co-educational, college preparatory school located in New Lenox, Illinois, approximately 40 miles southwest of Chicago. It is administered by the Augustinian Order. The students come from over seventy elementary and junior high schools within a radius of thirty miles. The area contains suburban Chicago towns, a small city (Joliet) and a growing community that is changing from rural/suburban to suburban. The student body is ethnically diverse, though predominantly Caucasian.

Accreditation and Membership

Illinois State Board of Education • North Central Association – Accrediting Division of AdvancED
The Augustinian Secondary Education Association • National Catholic Education Association

Curriculum

A Providence Catholic High School education provides each student with a four-year college preparatory program. A Providence education is one unified program of instruction, which emphasizes a fundamental understanding of the basic skills and disciplines in the liberal arts. The Providence Catholic curriculum emphasizes excellence in theology, language arts, social science, mathematics, world language, the sciences, the arts, computer education, physical education and business education. Providence Catholic graduates are expected to demonstrate mastery of many skills and disciplines.
